an iFred.org project

1. Illinois State Teaching Standards

The state of Illinois defines social and emotional learning as “the process through which children and adults acquire the knowledge, attitudes, and skills they need to”:

- Recognize and manage their emotions
- Demonstrate caring and concern for others
- Establish positive relationships
- Make responsible decisions
- Handle challenging situations constructively

Further, “Quality SEL instruction in which students learn to process , integrate, and selectively apply SEL skills in developmentally, contextually, and culturally appropriate ways in conjunction with a safe, caring, participatory and responsive school climate can result in positive outcomes including”;

- Promotion of mental wellness
- Prevention of mental health issues
- School connectedness
- Reduction in student absenteeism
- Reduction in suspensions
- Adoption, implementation and institutionalization of new practices
- Improved academic outcomes
